

It is no secret that different age group have different reading preferences. The project I am working on is aimed at establishing what book genres are popular among 13-19 year olds in Zetland. I have found some data on this issue and organized it in a table. In this essay I am going to analyse my findings.

As can be seen from the table, the majority of the respondents cited adventure stories as their preferred book genre, making this kind of books most popular with Zetland's teenagers. Adventure fiction is very closely followed by detective, war and spy stories, which are also liked by more than half of teenage readers. Another key feature is that less than a fifth of the surveyed teenagers reported enjoying reading romances, putting this genre at the bottom of the table.

The table also shows that sports stories, enjoyed by 49.2 percent of teenage boys and girls, are just slightly less popular than the first two most read genres. By contrast, animal stories, which are in the fourth position with 27.2 percent, are only half as popular as the two leading genres.

While many teenagers cannot imagine their lives without books, there is an important problem associated with reading. It is known that prolonged reading can lead to eye strain and headaches. Fortunately, book lovers can effectively deal with this issue by taking regular breaks from reading and giving their eyes some rest.

In conclusion, although avid young readers can face some problems, I am convinced that reading is of crucial importance for every teenager.

It is no secret that _____. The project I am working on is aimed at establishing what _____ I have found some data on this issue and organized it in a table. In this essay I am going to analyse my findings.

As can be seen from the table/chart, the majority of the respondents cited _____ as their preferred _____, making this _____ most popular with _____. _____ is very closely followed by _____, which are also liked by more than half of _____. Another key feature is that less than a fifth of the surveyed _____ reported enjoying _____, putting this _____ at the bottom of the table.

The table also shows that _____, enjoyed by 49.2 percent of _____, are just slightly less popular than the first two most popular _____. By contrast, _____, which are in the fourth position with 27.2 percent, are only half as popular as the two leading _____.

While many teenagers cannot imagine their lives without _____, there is an important problem associated with _____. It is known that _____ can lead to/result in _____. Fortunately, _____ can effectively deal with this issue by _____.

In conclusion, although _____ can face some problems, I am convinced that _____ is of crucial importance for _____.

People use smartphones on a regular basis for different purposes. I have found some information on what smartphones are used for. In this project I am going to outline some key facts of the survey. It can be seen from the diagram that the majority of respondents use their smartphones as means of communication. E-mailing and making calls are the most widely-used function. The results are almost identical, 79% and 78% respectively. Another striking feature is that people show little interest in using their smartphones for payment, with only 15% of those surveyed.

As it is clear from the bar chart, surfing the Internet is slightly less popular than using smartphones for communication purposes. Playing games is about thrice as popular as paying for purchases making the latter the least preferred smartphone function.

It can be deduced from the data in the bar chart that some problems might occur as a result of using smartphones. Their excessive use for mailing and surfing the Internet can lead to eyesight deterioration since the screens are relatively small in size. Some of the most efficient solutions are to choose instead of smartphones or to keep control of the time one spends online, which can be achieved by setting screen time.

It is my strong belief that smartphones play an important role in our life because they allow us to connect to friends, relatives and business partners. However, if they are overused, they can cause health problems.

People use _____ for different purposes. I have found some information on what _____ are used for. In this project I am going to outline some key facts of the survey.

It can be seen from the diagram that the majority of respondents use _____ as _____ are the most widely-used function. The results are almost identical, 79% and 78% respectively. Another striking feature is that people show little interest in _____, with only 15% of those surveyed.

As it is clear from the bar chart, _____ is slightly less popular than _____. _____ is about twice/thrice as popular as _____ making the latter the least preferred _____ function.

It can be deduced from the data in the bar chart that some problems might occur as a result of _____. _____ can lead to _____.

Some of the most efficient solutions are _____ or _____.

It is my strong belief that _____ play an important role in our life because they allow us to _____. However, if they are overused, they can cause _____ problems.

Leisure time is important for every person that is why it is interesting to know how they plan it. I am currently working on my project in order to learn what leisure activities are popular with teenagers. As a part of my project, I have found some information (on the subject about teenagers who live in Zetland). The statistics are presented in the chart/table and I am going to comment on it. (72 слова/62 слова)

According to the data, the vast majority of teenage boys and girls choose to spend their free time surfing the Internet and playing computer games, making them most popular ways of spending time. The results are almost identical, 32% and 29% respectively. Another key feature is that a minority of the surveyed teenagers reported enjoying going to the gym, putting this leisure activity at the bottom of the chart. (69 слов)

(Another striking feature is that the respondents show little interest in going to the gym, with only 9% of those surveyed.) (63 слова)

As it is clear from the bar chart, a significant proportion of teenagers (19%) prefer watching films and listening to music. It is also worth mentioning that the number of respondents enjoying going for a walk with friends is slightly less popular (11%) than film and music entertainment. (48 слов)

It can be deduced from the data in the bar chart that some problems might occur as a result of planning free-time activities. Passive activities can lead to health problems for instance, a greater risk of developing overweight, high blood pressure or depression. One of the most efficient solutions is to include more physical activities in school curriculum. (58 слов)

In conclusion, although young people can face some problems, I am convinced that leisure activities are of crucial importance for every teenager. (22 слова) (253 слова) _____ is important for every person that is why it is interesting to know how _____. I am currently working on my project in order to learn what _____ are popular with _____. As a part of my project, I have found some information. The statistics are presented in the chart/table and I am going to comment on it.

According to the data, the vast majority of teenage boys and girls choose to _____, making them most popular ways of _____. The results are almost identical, ___% and ___% respectively. Another key feature is that a minority of the surveyed _____ reported _____, putting this _____ at the bottom of the chart. (Another striking feature is that the respondents show little interest in _____, with only ___% of those surveyed.)

As it is clear from the bar chart, a significant proportion of _____ (___%) prefer _____. It is also worth mentioning that the number of respondents enjoying _____ is slightly less popular (___%) than _____.

It can be deduced from the data in the bar chart that some problems might occur as a result of _____. _____ can lead to _____ for instance, _____. One of the most efficient solutions is to _____.

In conclusion, although _____ can face some problems, I am convinced that _____ are of crucial importance for _____.

